Everywhere Jesus went, he taught people about God's ways, and he healed sick people who came to him or were brought to him. Often, he taught in the SYNAGOGUES, the places of worship in the towns and villages. There, people gathered on the last day of the week – the Sabbath day – to read the Bible and pray. God's law commanded the people to set aside the Sabbath day and do no work on that day.

Jesus said that God's law is about love first of all. If people will take care of their animals on the Sabbath, why shouldn't they help other people? Jesus said the woman was a "daughter of Abraham" – one of God's children, just as important as the synagogue leaders, and much more important than an ox!
