AN ATTITUDE OF GRATITUDE

For most of us, Thanksgiving will be different this year. It will be the first time since the first shut-down in March 2020 (the start of the COVID-19 pandemic) that there will not be a limit placed on the number of persons allowed to sit around the turkey. For that we are THANKFUL!

My granny “raised” my brother and me while our parents lived in England. She was very clear that she had a sacred responsibility and that she would do her best. One of her tasks was to teach us manners, for “manners maketh man”. That was her mantra. She insisted that we should always “say thanks when someone gives you something. It is good manners”.

Thankfulness is more than an act of good manners. It ought to be a major component of our lives. During the Thanksgiving holiday, we focus on our blessings (usually stated in material things) and express our thankfulness to God for them. When thankfulness becomes an integral part of our life, our attitude towards life changes.

Without thankfulness and gratitude, in our lives, we become self-centered, bitter, and idolatrous. Idolatry begins when we reject what we know about God. Instead of looking to God as the Creator and sustainer of life, we see ourselves as the center of the universe. A life of thankfulness is an attitude toward God, toward life, and toward other people.

There is a legend about a man who found the barn where Satan kept his seeds ready to be sown in the human heart, and on finding the seeds of discouragement more numerous than others, he learned that those seeds could be made to grow almost anywhere. When Satan was questioned, he reluctantly admitted that there was one place in which he could never get the seeds of discouragement to thrive. 'And where is that?' asked the man. Satan replied sadly, “In the heart of a grateful person.”

Wishing everyone a Happy Thanksgiving.

Sub-Dean & Vicar
