

Easter Day

April 20, 2025

Choral Evensong at 4:30pm

The Cathedral Church of St. James Diocese of Toronto • Anglican Church of Canada

Welcome to St. James Cathedral

This sacred land is the territory of several Indigenous Nations - the Wendat, the Haudenosaunee, and the Anishnaabe, and the Métis peoples, with special recognition to the Mississaugas of New Credit. We also acknowledge that we are on the shores of Niigaani-gichigami/Lake Ontario. This territory is governed by the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Treaty, an agreement between the Haudenosaunee Confederacy and the Anishnaabe Confederacy to peaceably share and sustain the life of the Great Lakes. In the spirit of that Treaty we seek to place at the centre of our gatherings the values of respectful reciprocity, diversity, peace, responsibility, and mutual aid.

Liturgical Note:

*In the context of Christian Liturgy, Israel does not refer to the current political state, but either to the historic Hebrews of the ancient Near East or, in Christian theology, to all people who put their faith and trust in Jesus Christ.

Choral Evensong

Our practice at Evensong is to stand for the procession and recession of the choir, and the canticles, to sing, sit for the Scripture readings (including the Psalm) and the Homily, and kneel or sit for prayer. These are guidelines and we invite you to assume a posture that is most comfortable for you during the service.

Officiant Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Psalm 118:1-21

Chant by Allan Gray

Choir O give thanks to the Lord, for he is good;
 his mercy endures for ever.
Let Israel now proclaim,
 'His mercy endures for ever.'
Let the house of Aaron now proclaim,

‘His mercy endures for ever.’
Let those who fear the Lord proclaim,
‘His mercy endures for ever.’
In my constraint I called to the Lord;
the Lord answered and set me free.
The Lord is at my side; I will not fear;
what can flesh do to me?
With the Lord at my side as my saviour,
I shall see the downfall of my enemies.
It is better to take refuge in the Lord
than to put any confidence in flesh.
It is better to take refuge in the Lord
than to put any confidence in princes.
All the nations encompassed me,
but by the name of the Lord I drove them back.
They hemmed me in, they hemmed me in on every side,
but by the name of the Lord I drove them back.
They swarmed about me like bees;
they blazed like fire among thorns,
but by the name of the Lord I drove them back.
Surely, I was thrust to the brink,
but the Lord came to my help.
The Lord is my strength and my song,
and he has become my salvation.
Joyful shouts of salvation
sound from the tents of the righteous:
‘The right hand of the Lord does mighty deeds;
the right hand of the Lord raises up;
the right hand of the Lord does mighty deeds.’
I shall not die, but live and declare the works of the Lord.
The Lord has punished me sorely,
But he has not given me over to death.
Open to me the gates of righteousness,
that I may enter and give thanks to the Lord.
This is the gate of the Lord;
the righteous shall enter through it.
I will give thanks to you, for you have answered me and have become my salvation.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
world without end. Amen.

First Lesson

Isaiah 51: 9-11

Reader Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord! Awake, as in days of old, the generations of long ago! Was it not you who cut Rahab in pieces, who pierced the dragon? Was it not you who dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep; who made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to cross over? So the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with singing; everlasting joy shall be upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Reader Here ends the lesson.

Magnificat

Please stand.

Evening Service in C by C. V. Stanford

Choir

My soul doth magnify the Lord,
and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.
For he hath regarded the lowliness of his handmaiden.
For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.
For he that is mighty hath magnified me; and holy is his Name.
And his mercy is on them that fear him throughout all generations.
He hath showed strength with his arm;
he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
He hath put down the mighty from their seat,
and hath exalted the humble and meek.
He hath filled the hungry with good things;
and the rich he hath sent empty away.
He remembering his mercy hath holpen his servant Israel;
As he promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed for ever.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Second Lesson

Luke 24:13-35

Reader Now on that same day two of them were going to a village called Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem, and talking with each other about all these things that had happened. While they were talking and discussing, Jesus himself came near and went with them, but their eyes were kept from recognizing him. And he said to them, 'What are you discussing with each other while you walk along?' They stood still, looking sad. Then one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answered him, 'Are you the only stranger in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have taken place there in these days?' He asked them, 'What things?' They replied, 'The things about Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, and how our chief priests and leaders handed him over to be condemned to death and crucified him. But we had hoped that he was the one to redeem Israel. Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things took place. Moreover, some women of our group astounded us. They were at the tomb early this morning, and when they did not find his body there, they came back and told us that they had indeed seen a vision of angels who said that he was alive. Some of those who were with us went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said; but they did not see him.' Then he said to them, 'Oh, how foolish you are, and how slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have declared! Was it not necessary that the Messiah should suffer these things and then enter into his glory?' Then beginning with Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted to them the things about himself in all the scriptures.

As they came near the village to which they were going, he walked ahead as if he were going on. But they urged him strongly, saying, 'Stay with us, because it is almost evening and the day is now nearly over.' So he went in to stay with them. When he was at the table with them, he took bread, blessed and broke it, and gave it to them. Then their eyes were opened, and they recognized him; and he vanished from their sight. They said to each other, 'Were not our hearts burning within us while he was talking to us on the road, while he was opening the scriptures to us?' That same hour they got up and returned to Jerusalem; and they found the eleven and their companions gathered together. They were saying, 'The Lord has risen indeed, and he has appeared to Simon!' Then they told what had happened on the road, and how he had been made known to them in the breaking of the bread.

Reader

Here ends the lesson.

Anthem This Joyful Eastertide

Text G.R. Woodward;
 Music: Dutch Carol; arr. Charles Wood

Choir This joyful Eastertide away with sin and sorrow!
 My love, the crucified, hath sprung to life this morrow.
Had Christ, who once was slain, ne'er burst his three-day prison, our faith had been in vain. But now hath Christ arisen, arisen, arisen, arisen.

My flesh in hope shall rest and for a season slumber till trumpets east to west shall wake the dead in number.
Had Christ, who once was slain, ne'er burst his three-day prison,

our faith had been in vain. But now hath Christ arisen, arisen, arisen, arisen.

Death's flood hath lost its chill since Jesus crossed the river.

Lover of souls, from ill my passing soul deliver.

Had Christ, who once was slain, ne'er burst his three-day prison,

our faith had been in vain. But now hath Christ arisen, arisen, arisen, arisen.

Hymn at the Collection

Tune: Llanfair

Christ the Lord is risen today, alleluia!
Earth and heaven in chorus say, Alleluia!
Raise your joys and triumphs high, Alleluia!
Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply, Alleluia!

Love's redeeming work is done, Alleluia!
Fought the fight, the battle won, Alleluia!
Death in vain forbids him rise, Alleluia!
Christ has opened paradise, Alleluia!

Lives again our glorious King, Alleluia!
Where, O death, is now thy sting? Alleluia!
Once he died our souls to save, Alleluia!
Where's thy victory, boasting grave? Alleluia!

Hail the Lord of earth and heaven, Alleluia!
Praise to thee by both be given, Alleluia!
Thee we greet triumphant now, Alleluia!
Hail the Resurrection, thou, Alleluia!

Love has come again

Our first full winter in Toronto has been somewhat brutal. People told me that we had gotten away lightly last year. I now know they were right. For several weeks now, I have found myself tracking my weather app and peering out of the window, looking for signs of spring on the way. An Easter hymn summarises this longing well.

Now the green blade riseth, from the buried grain,
Wheat that in dark earth many days has lain;
Love lives again, that with the dead has been:
Love is come again like wheat that springeth green.

Of course, the hymn writer is using winter turning to spring as a metaphor. The death and burial of Jesus was a kind of wintertime, short perhaps but agonising nevertheless. And then comes Easter morning.

Forth He came at Easter, like the risen grain,
Jesus who for three days in the grave had lain;
Quick from the dead, the risen One is seen:
Love is come again like wheat that springeth green.

Because of the resurrection of Jesus, the world is different. We are different. And even when our lives are wintry, we live in faith that one day they too will be different.

When our hearts are wintry, grieving, or in pain,
Jesus' touch can call us back to life again,
Fields of our hearts that dead and bare have been:
Love is come again like wheat that springeth green.

May it be so for you this Easter time.

Dean Stephen Hance
